Now and then a flash of light
Memories of sleeping tight
I am lying on my bedrooms floor
Praying you were here
Broken hearts and fading dreams
Is not so easy as it seems
Bye bye sweet life
Bye bye my love

Latest night we reach the shore
I know your please but I want more
I'm waiting on the other side
Praying you were here
One and one we've walked on by
God it hurts to live and die
Bye bye sweet life
Bye bye my love

Bring me to the memory of how it used to be
When loving was to teach you forgiving
Farewell
Evil will surrender in the end
Then I will be waiting for you

There's no love left in your eyes
It took some time to realize
I am lying on my bedrooms floor
Forever wanting more
One and one we've walked on by
God it hurts to live and die
Bye bye sweet life
Bye bye my love

Bring me to the memory of how it used to be
When loving was to teach you forgiving
Farewell
Evil will surrender in the end
Then I will be waiting for you

Bring me to the memory of how it used to be
When loving was to teach you forgiving

Farewell
Evil will surrender in the end
Then I will be waiting for you

Bring me to the memory of how it used to be
When loving was to teach you forgiving
Farewell
Evil will surrender in the end
Then I will be waiting for you

Bring me to the memory of how it used to be
When loving was to teach you forgiving
Farewell
Evil will surrender in the end
