I know you know what I'm about to say but let me tell it to you anyway although I never mean to let you down you keep your head up and you stand your ground don't think I don't see all the things that you do You're the reason we've made it through there you are on the phone again reminding me why we're still friends there's a road we're on that never ends cause there you are again I know that sometimes I don't think to call but don't start thinking I don't care at all I'm always on my way to somewhere else searching high and low to find myself stuck on that highway between here and there
I could be anywhere
(Chorus)
you're like the eye of a hurricane you are a constant in a world of change you are the calm in the storm when life gets strange
(Chorus)
