"Without You"

your eyes look through me like you knew what I don't your smile's so soothing when you know that I won't turn away say good-bye on any future day lose myself make you cry and run away and hide you bring to me security I've never had before I'm learning to sleep again 'cause I know that you are so sincere your lying here and never going away I can say that today I'm the happiest man alive without you in my life
I'd never be the same
without you in my life
I'd never feel the same
now that you're in my life I'll never be the same
now close your eyes and listen to the music and let it be understood that this is how I feel
without you in my life
I'd never be the same
without you in my life
oh I'm so satisfied with all that you do
and the way you make me feel
