"Seen Enough"

I've seen enough to know
I've seen enough
Seen enough to know
Oh, my eyes remind me next time
So I keep them closed

I like to pine away for what I hate
It keeps me in the dark
Like a one-track mind
Don't let me start
You keep me sharp

Once more into the crowd
Temptation wears you out
Go home your heart's too loud
Always on

It's no surprise that all the things
I like are making me a ghost
I should have never started killing time
I can't go slow

Once more endure the crowd
Temptation wears you down
Go home your heart's too loud
Always on
