I told you before I'm doing just fine
(Anyone here?)
Anyone here would leave here with me
(Their hands around my neck)

The clothes on my back are all that I want
(Sewn to my sleeve)
And the carefully hardened heart on my sleeve
(Years of wasted time)

I'm writing a book on problem solving
I'm drawing a picture to help you along

Even the strongest rock can be saved
Even the largest property razed

How can you tell me feelings can save?
(Somebody said)
People will cry at weddings and wakes
(Fifty years apart)

I'm writing a book on problem solving
I'm drawing a picture to help you along

What do you think of when you see me?
They are the colors I will use
What do you think of when you see me?
They are the colors I will use
