Don't you try to make amends
The damage has been done
Don't expect to part as friends
The battle's just begun
I waited at your beckon call
My world turned all around you
I shoulda known the day I found you You'd be leaving me behind
* the whole town,
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town
The whole town,
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town*

They're starin as I pass em by
How can they be so cold?
They're whisperin' that I'm the guy
Well I don't need to be told
Remember all the days in love
How could you run to a stranger?
Well I knew I was in danger
When it happened overnight
