Two dreamers, what would it feel like to meet by light of day
So lonely, wouldn't it feel right to love this night away
Your name keeps echoing down this wishing well Wild hearts on an endless flight, set free in our dreams
tonight

Two souls drawn to the fire in desperate dreams
Two hearts lost to desire's desperate schemes
One girl lost in a reverie, lost love found in a memory
Those nights live on forever two fools lost in a desperate dream

Torn pages, more than a memory pieces of the past One vision, your image keeps haunting me, a love too good to last
Your voice keeps echoing down this wishing well Wild hearts on an endless flight, set free in our dreams
tonight

Two souls drawn to the fire in desperate dreams
Two hearts lost to desire's desperate schemes
One girl lost in a reverie, lost love found in a memory
Those nights live on forever two fools lost in a
desperate dream

One love divided burns brightly through the night
Two dreams united until the morning light

Two souls drawn to the fire in desperate dreams
Two hearts lost to desire's desperate schemes
One girl lost in a reverie, lost love found in a memory
Those nights live on forever two fools lost in a
desperate dream
Lost in a desperate dream, in just a desperate dream
Only a desperate dream
