Don't you try to make amends
The damage has been done
Don't expect to part as friends
The battle's just begun

I waited at your beckon call
My world turned all around you
I shoulda known the day I found you
You'd be leaving me behind

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

They're starin as I pass 'em by
How can they be so cold?
They're whisperin' that I'm the guy
I don't need to be told

Remember all the days in love
How could you run to stranger?
Well, I knew I was in danger
When it happened overnight

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

Now don't you try to make amends
The damage has been done
And don't expect to part as friends
The battle's just begun

I waited at your beckon call

My world turned all around you
I shoulda known the day I found you
You'd be leaving me behind

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town

The whole town
The whole town's talkin'
The whole town
