No one wastes time quite like I do

I can waste time like nobody else

You can go running back to your friends

You can go running back to your friends

Well, that's how it feels

Oh, that's how it feels

I would understand your heart

If I could feel it

I would understand your heart

If I could feel it

All I have is all that I am feeling

All I feel well it's all that I know

And then I use it every day

And abuse it in every way

And that's how it feels

Yeah, that's how it feels

I would understand your heart

If I could feel it

I would understand your heart

If I could feel it

The sky is more certain

Than you will ever be
The rain clouds are angry
At you and at me
The sky is more certain
Than you will ever be
The rain clouds are angry
At you and at me
Forgive me baby
I am not all that you see
I would understand your heart
If I could feel it
I would understand your heart
If I could feel it
I would understand your heart
If I could feel it
Oh, I would understand your heart
If I could feel it
