Come to the house if you fell like mourning
Go to the door where the locks are broken
Knock if you could just to give me warning
Ah what the hell I don't deserve this

Leave me alone with the heat you've broken
All of the memories wasted moments
Think of the lies in the time we've spoken
Ah what the hell how could you do this
How could you do this

Everytime my heart been broken
You were there with softly spoken
Words that always made me nervous
You should know love scares me

wish for the best with the worst intentions
Tend to forget when I thought I mentioned
Left all the knives in the downstairs kitchen
Ah what the hell you're just not worth it
You're just not worth it

Everytime my heart been broken
You were there with softly spoken
Words that always made me nervous
You should know love scares me

Relax 4x

Everytime my hearts been broken
You were there with softly spoken
Words that always made me nervous
You should know love scares me
Love scares me 3x
