All the evidence is in, all the truth's been told There's nothing left I need to see 'cause I'm already sold I've seen the healing touch of Your hand bring my broken dreams to life
No one can love me any more than You so I make this vow tonight.

Chorus:

There'll be no other Gods before You
No other love above You
No other dream in my heart than what You've begun
Before You there will be no other one.

I cannot see where life will take me, there's still so far to go
But this one thing I've come to realize, You're all I need to know
Against the frailty of my humanness, with everything I am I promise this.

Chorus:

There'll be no other Gods before You
No other love above You
No other dream in my heart than what You've begun
Before You there will be no other one.

Oh, precious love that found me
All that You are is all I need.

Chorus:

There'll be no other Gods before You
No other love above You
No other dream in my heart than what You've begun
Before You there will be no other one...
