

Susan Ashton

"Summer Snow"

Visit "Summer Snow" on MotoLyrics.com

Unexpectedly... you came back to see
If Ive been waiting, like I promised long before
Youre shadow filled the room
The music changed it's tune
When I saw you,
You were standing at the door
Like summer snow
You were an unexpected sight
A blazing sun
You came shining in the night
When I really should've known..
That you'd be coming home... home..
(whou whou .. whou whou)
I waited patiently
I found it hard to see,
If you would come .. but was was there such a lonely way
At times I thought u lied
Or else you would have tried to let me know
That you were coming back today
Like summer snow, it falls around me in the cold
I can hear the echoes of the morning...night has told
That i should know
That you would be coming home...home..
(whou whou .. whou whou)

Visit Susan Ashton page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.