There's a life in me - I don't want to lose
And there's a life in me - I don't have to choose
It's all laid out there to see
But the changes come
Like the end of dreams
And we just stand and watch them
As they fade away
Pages turn bridges burn
People yearn to be like they were yesterday

There's a life in you - you don't want to lose
And there's a light in you
Should you want to choose
It's all laid out there to see
But so what you say
Who cares any way
You don't believe in love
It never came your way
The planets turn the oceans churn
Children learn but you just say well
Where's the love

There's a life in me - I don't want to lose it
I'm not the kind to throw it away
There's a better way
Take my life and learn how to use it
Everyday
There's a life in me
I'm still alive and my eyes don't deceive me
I see a light where the dark used to be
It's a better day
I see a world where love can surround me

There's a love in you - I don't want to lose
And there's a love in me - should you want to choose
It's all laid out there to see
So we set a course on a distant sky
Our love is high
As we sail the waves and ride the tide
But those waves will crash
On an empty shore

And we won't be around to see them anymore
