In and out
Culture and a swollen mind
You're passing through the circle that you thought you'd find in me, when you found me

Head along with a breaking mind
The love was never ardoured, but the heartstrings chimed in me
When you found me

You run away, you never mind me
You run away, you run away despite me
You run away, you run away
You never mind
You run away, you run away
You never mind
You run away, you never mind me
You run away, you run away despite me
You run away, you run away
You never mind
You run away, you run away
You never mind

Praying for answers
Nothing can stop us, nothing can
Praying for answers
Nothing can stop us, nothing can

In and out
Culture and a swollen mind
I'm falling so short of what you thought you'd find in me, when you found me
In answer to that question, did you stifle me
You planned it altogether, all in spite of me
To find what you found in me

You run away, you never mind me
You run away, you run away despite me
You run away, you run away
You never mind
You run away, you run away

You never mind
You run away, you never mind me
You run away, you run away despite me
You run away, you run away
You never mind
You run away, you run away
You never mind

Praying for answers
Nothing can stop us, nothing can
Praying for answers
Nothing can stop us, nothing can

Praying for answers
Nothing can stop us, nothing can
Praying for answers
Nothing can stop us, nothing can

Praying for answers
Nothing can stop us, nothing can
Praying for answers
