Juliet sits next to a fire
Until she close her door on me.
To warm herself from my cold hearted ways I guess
She took her books and starts to read.
A romance novel with a picture perfect ending,
She puts it down cause it hurts her to think
Of all the times that she knows I wasn't listening
To all the claims of love she don't see.

Well, I can lock the door on you, babe.
You can lock the door on me
How much time we'd be wasting
Both of our hearts hold the key.

Ooh, ooh, oh, oh.....

Juliet curls back into bed
'Til she close her door on me.
You can bet she ain't lettin' me back in,
She took her books and starts to read
A murder-mystery with a terrible ending
She puts it down cause it scares her to think
I'm outside waitin' near the woods
Watchin' her as she tries to sleep

Oh but I can lock the door on you babe
You can lock the door on me
How much time we'd be wasting
Both of our hearts hold the key

Ooh, ooh, oh, oh.....

Well, I can lock the door on you, babe.
You can lock the door on me
How much time we'd be wasting
Both of our hearts hold the key.
