(Buck Owens)

When you've climbed every mountain there is to climb
When at last you've sailed every sea
When your heart grows heavy and you're down on the street
Suddenly you'll remember to ring me.

When you've felt every hurt there is to feel
When at last you've sang every song
When you think your world has come to an end
I'll still be waiting for you.

I'll still be waiting for you I'll still be waiting for you
When you think your world has come to an end
I'll still be waiting for you...
