Can you take me as I am?
And the sting of my sweat against your mouth
You judge me until there's nothing left
You and your opinions wear me out
You don't know me

[chorus]
I'm immune, I am free
Not a slave to your beliefs
I'm immune, out of reach
You're alone, stuck with your disease
You hate the things that I say
And who I seem to be
You don't look so normal to me

Serve your daily rituals
Then make up the rules to suit yourself
I'll never be what you are
So why don't I start to hate myself?
You don't know me

[chorus]

Can you take me as I am?
And the sting of my sweat against your mouth
You judge me until there's nothing left
While you and your opinions wear me out
You don't know me

[chorus x2]
You don't look so normal to me
You don't look so normal to me
To me
To me
