and when i'm free
ain't never gonna be the same no how no way when the day comes i'm gonna live for no one else except myself and i know if ever i've been taught you cannot start to run before you walk and i know this time i'm going it alone down in the street everybody on the come and go they punch out and march on home just stuck in line

i never want to lead that life or give the time there's something going on out there somewhere out there anywhere but here so let em know i'm never comin home again i just started out

and when i'm free
