Come all of you who are going again
Going again and loving one another
Anyone going again
Back to the well
Back to the well for water

Somewhere here among the leaves
Among the thorns among the briars
Somewhere here among the leaves
You'll find the well you're after

I met a girl as the evening fell
She looked to me heaven's daughter
And she turned and she smiled at me
Going to the well for water

Leave behind your old black cloud
Your winter shroud
Going to the well for water
Leave behind your wounded pride
Back to the well
Back to the well for water

Walking out through the open fields
With my friend that I found
Walking out over open ground
O my love look what I found for you

Now me and her we're going again
Going again and loving one another
Me and her we're going again
Back to the well
Back to the well for water

So anyone going again
Going again and loving one another
Anyone going again
Back to the well
Back to the well for water
Back to the well
Back to the well

Back to the well for water
