

Sutton Foster

"Come the Wild, Wild Weather"

Visit "Come the Wild, Wild Weather" on MotoLyrics.com

Time may hold in store for us glory or defeat Maybe never more for us, life will seem so sweet Time may change so many things, tides will ebb and flow
But wherever fate may lead us always we shall know

Come the wild, wild weather, come the wind, come the rain
Come the little white flakes of snow, come the joy, come the pain
We shall still be together when our life story ends
For wherever we chance to go we shall always be friends

We may find while we're traveling through the years
Moments of joy and love and happiness
Reason for grief, reason for tears

Come the wild, wild weather if we've lost all we've won We'll remember these words we say till our story is done

We may find while we're traveling through the years
Moments of joy and love and happiness
Reason for grief, reason for tears

Come the wild, wild weather, come the wind, come the
rain
Come the little white flakes of snow, come the joy,
come the pain
We shall still be together when our life story ends
For wherever we chance to go Wherever we chance to go we shall always be friends

Visit Sutton Foster page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.