(QuatroTucky)

I saw you walking down the street you were new

My heart it nearly skipped a beat and I knew

You were not the lovin' kind - too cool

And I curse the you were mine - so cruel

He was an ego in the night

A perfect plastic coated knight

Wherever he goes he's so right

He was an ego in the night

In the night

And when I looked into your eyes - like ice

I was tryin' to socialise - being nice

Promises of paradise sounded good

Trust me to realise it's no good

He was an ego in the night

A perfect plastic coated knight

Wherever he goes he's so right

He was an ego in the night

In the night

And the way he wears his hair

Sure to make the women stare

And the game plays he knows

As the passing ego flows

He was an ego in the night

He was an ego in the night
