(QuatroTucky)

There's a light that shines in the middle of the night
And there's a girl she's a lonely sight
She blew all her dreams when she was a teenage beauty
Life don't matter no more
I hear a sound I think it's someone cryin'
I look around could be someone dyin'
As she glanced down from her window I saw a tear fall She's got no feeling no more Starlight lady, will she maybe take another chance of love
Starlight lady, lovely lady, I wonder who she's thinkin'
Late at night her memory like a vision sees
All the men that worshipped her on bended knees
What's left are the souvenirs
Do they remind her of better years
She don't know anymore
Starlight lady, will she maybe take another chance of
love
Starlight lady, lovely lady, I wonder who she's thinkin'
beauty
Life don't matter no more
