I believe that love is real
I believe it's how you feel when you touch my hand
When you hold me tight
But can I really fall asleep
Is this a promise we can keep and know it'll feel the same
In the morning light

Careless words only fade away
They don't mean what they say
I won't do it
You can have this promise, we'll never be apart
Take it to your heart
And hold me to it

Turn the light on look around
A hundred years from now everything we know
Could fade from sight
But love can last that long
If we build it slow and strong, standing on the promise
That we make tonight

Careless words only fade away
They don't mean what they say
I won't do it
You can have this promise, we'll never be apart
Take it to your heart
And hold me to it

Take it to you heart and hold me to it
