"Just Kill Me"

I can't escape from here
The darkness is eating my mind I don't know how to tell you that you don't know why you don't know why
I can't escape from here
The silence is eating my wound
Before the sun is cold I gotta go I gotta go morning dew's a sign for flying away now it's time to go find your way footsteps all around me in the snow nothing else can stay in this world I forgot how to touch my heart
My body's floating away Snow is falling down on my face like trying to hide my existence

Don't look at me with your fake eyes Don't look at me with your fake words Don't hurt me again with your fake smile
Don't hold me tight
Just kill me
