

Faint, The "Ballad of a Paralysed Citizen"

Visit "Ballad of a Paralysed Citizen" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm paralysed and things could change for you as well You're not so bad off now, you can move anything you need

I'm not this way because of an emergency I caused at seventeen a guard, perched above the chlorine floor
When I saw a hand raise up from just beneath the air
a frantic move for help, I made an instant judgment
call.

To dive, I arced my feet to dive,
I broke the elemental line
to save a child.
Dive, into the shallow floor
the bottom scraped my palms
and compressed my spine.

Now I'm paralysed while they just hope to make amends
the family and the kid who faked the drowning
incident,
I've felt the hand of God and that's the last thing that I felt at all below my back, I've lost the faith I thought I had.

To dive, I arced my feet to dive,
I broke the elemental line
to save a child.
Dive, into the shallow floor
the bottom scraped my palms
and compressed my spine.

Visit Faint, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.