My heart's been broken
Patched and plastered Bruised and beaten to the core Been hiding out here in this secret castle trying to keep the world from breaking through my doors

But, oh, maybe if I dare to open up
and let love in Maybe if I dare to open up I'll find there's still someone who will catch me when I fall

My night are empty
Dark and shattered
The sheets are naked
and too cold
I'm finding out what really matters
How I don't really like to be alone

But, oh, maybe if I dare to open up
and let love in
Maybe if I dare to open up
someone who will
catch me when I fall
Catch me when I fall

So, maybe if I dare to open up
and let love in Maybe if I dare to break the lock I'll find there's still
someone who will
catch me when I fall
