Please take my heart
I won't need it anyway
It only takes up space
So rip away these memories
They take me to a place
Where I am left and always worn
They feed the pain

Try to, with all your might
To remember happiness
She's with me in my dreams
When I'm asleep
I hold her close
And every things okay
I wish she would just take me now

Well maybe I should try and find another
But here it comes again
I see her eyes
I feel her skin
Take me back
Back in time
Take me to the places I have known
Shall know me no more

Try to, with all your might
To remember happiness
She's with me in my dreams
When I'm asleep
I hold her close
And every things okay
I wish she would just take me now

Take me in your arms
And never let me know
The pain that comes
When you're all alone

Try to, with all your might
Try to, with all your might
Try to, with all your might

To forget her
