Before I met you
I never had a clue
About what I was missing
Then I found the truth in the way you're kissing me

It's been so long since we've kissed
I never knew that love could feel quite like this
And our lips me
Touch the skies
Hold you closely
Close my eyes

Love is building
Bodies close
Passions rising
Forgotten clothes
In this moment
We're both here
But I close my eyes

It's been so long since we've kissed
I never knew that love could feel quite like this
And our lips meet
Touch the skies
Hold you closely
Close my eyes

I'd give my world for you
To have you feel the same way I do
Spend my life right here with you
I wanna be the world for you
The world for you
The world for you
The world for you
The world for you
The world for you

I'd give my world for you
To have you feel the way I do
Spend my life right here with you

I wanna be the world for you

I'd give my world for you
To have you feel the way I do
Spend my life right here with you
I wanna be the world for you

I wanna be the world for you
I wanna be the world for you
The world for you
The world for you
The world for you
