In the discos and the bars
They're playing eye games
Venus is watching Mars
They're playing come and try games
They're playing eye games

Electric attraction in the night air
Eyes meet and break away, you can't show who you care
It's one of love's puzzles, the secrets in her eyes
Does it mean I'm on the right track?
Is there a chance for romance?

In the discos and the bars
They're playing eye games
Venus is watching Mars
They're playing come and try games
They're playing eye games

All round the city, they're stealing glances
She looks so pretty, I'll have to take my chances
The music's getting louder, you try to talk to her
You find it hard to concentrate
Wandering eyes must watch and wait

In the discos and the bars
They're playing eye games
Venus is watching Mars
They're playing come and try games
They're playing eye games
They're playing eye games
They're playing eye games
