You're a strange girl in a strange world

You're a strange girl in a strange world
Try to teach you, I can't reach you
Such a strange girl, you're so strange

You can never make up your mind
By the way, you wanna spend your time
You always find a different place to stay

I'll open an investigation
Into the breakdown in communications
I'm tired of eating every word I say

You're a strange girl in a strange world
Try to teach you, I can't reach you
Such a strange girl, you're so strange

If that's your way of feeling really free
Loosely wrapped in a fantasy
You'd better find another to take my place

I'm losing my imagination
I don't understand your situation
I got better things to do than waste my time

You're a strange girl in a strange world
Try to teach you, I can't reach you
Such a strange girl, you're so strange

You're a strange girl in a strange world
Try to teach you, I can't reach you
You're a strange girl in a strange world
Try to teach you, I can't reach you
Such a strange girl, you're so strange
