Opens her eyes to starlight
She moves with the cool of moonlight
Losing the day, finding her way to me, aha

And Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Sunny stays up every night
Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Aha, aha, aha

She whispers a word of warning
To beware of the light of morning
By losing their glow the stars tell her go away, away

But still she can see the moon
Though she knows she'll be leaving soon
Going away to hide from the day once more, aha

And Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Sunny stays up every night
Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Aha, aha, aha

Opens her eyes to starlight
She moves with the cool of moonlight
Losing the day, finding her way to me, to me

But still she can see the moon
Though she knows she'll be leaving soon
Going away to hide from the day once more, aha

And Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Sunny stays up every night
Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Aha, aha, aha, aha

And Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Sunny stays up every night
Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Aha, aha, aha, aha

And Sunny sleeps late in the morning
Sunny stays up every night

Sunny sleeps late
