Don't think about the good times running out
There's always a reason why you sort it out
You know what you're looking for

So make your own decisions, don't look back
Cause you know you're always on the right track
You know what you're looking for

When the time has come and you're on your own
When you realize your patience's gone
There's only one thing you should know

Give it up for love tonight
Give it up for love tonight

Give it up for love tonight

Don't think about the good times running out
There's always a reason why you sort it out
You know what you're looking for

When the time has come and you're on your own
When you realize your patience's gone
There's only one thing you should know

Give it up for love tonight
It sure makes you feel alive
And every time you try to smile
Be all fearless all the time
Give it up for love tonight
Give it up for love tonight
Give it up for love tonight
