set you up for a fall think you're so smart that you're fooling us all but it seems you must have done something wrong say you'll have to get back if you have to crawl well it's a fat chance you could make it at all and it seems
and I remember what you said
it was all over my head but now it's coming back to me you don't have the system beat, no you're travelling down a one way street like the rest of us
you must have done something wrong
and I remember what you said
but now it's coming back to me
it was all over my head
it was all over my head
