Go take a walk in the sun
Go take the weight off everyone
It takes the weight to see
That it's all bad advice to me
And it's all bad advice to me

Go take a stroll amongst the mines
Call yourself back in when it's time
Score your provisions score a smile
Hit the road for a million miles
Pack your vision and set your dials

When the sounds and the times conspire
And take the whole thing higher

Go take a walk in the park
We'll shoot the stars until it's dark
Choking on poppy smoke and sparks
Between Hoppers and Palomar Park
Where the gold dust glows in the dark

When the sounds and the times conspire
And take the whole thing higher
