Everybody running to the carnival, I say everybody running to the spree on carnival day old and the young, the great and the small everybody running to the carnival

everybody running to the carnival I say

One shirt Willie and he mother in law May May see them pushing throu the crowd on carnival day nothin' to eat and nothin' to wear but the carnival... they are bound to be there.

Twist eyed Mary Ann she was in love with a policeman she made to understand she wanted to take a calypsonian

Everybody running to the carnival I say.
