"Goodbye"

Deep in the heart of every man

Lies a hidden dream or plan

To be a millionaire

Life without a care

Hey cool cat

Does this apply to you?

Oh don't you lie

No don't you lie

You can't hide the truth

I can see what's behind those eyes

You're going crazy from telling lies

You might think you're strong

But you better not treat me wrong

Or else I'll say so long

(Chorus)

Goodbye

I never wanna see you again

Goodbye

I don't wanna be your friend

So long

Now we've reached the end

Time for me to turn that bend
When time has run away
And there's no need for me to stay and
Lose myself to you
And be abused by you
I don't need the pain
From your mind games
When you try them again I won't be there for them to work
Anymore
Now you're back and you beggin' please
Crawling on your hands and knees
You thought you were a star
But now here you are
We have not traveled far
(Chorus
