I'm coming home through Utah and snow
385 miles until the western coast
To coast I'll go to start off your war
My Marie quite so devastating
Quite so jealous of me and my time well spent
She could never be more than a disease that spreads
Throughout my body leaving cancer with time.

Maire I do understand
That I'm not your man
I don't lie
Would I beat you for anything?
Now everyone's aware of why we left you for dead
And our friendship is not worth a goddamn thing
I could never die enough for you

My Marie quite so pretty on a string
She lent out her body at attempts to feel complete
Marie will find him again
Another short term man
To give her one more reason to bleed out her love

Maire I do understand
That I'm not your man
I don't lie
Would I beat you for anything?
Now everyone's aware of why we left you for dead
And our friendship is not worth a goddamn thing
I could never die enough for you... for you

Appointed to present a new way to breathe for my majesty
Because all of my bright could not chase away your dark
It's my fault
I don't need you now
(I don't lie would I beat you for anything?)
(You're still all that matters to me)
I don't love you at all
