You don't care for what we're not
Painted lives on shattered rocks
And you can't see for what is real
Always trapped inside your seals

Cos you don't care for what we're not Always tempered always stopped
And you don't see for what is real
Forever trapped inside your seals

Then you join the things undone
Just to say we never won
Then you join the things undone
Just to say we never won
You always take out
Cos you're afraid mistaken
You always take out
Cos you've been bound mistaken

You just take from what we've lost
Bind us down with splintered rocks
Cos you just take us in and steal
Always trapped inside your seals
