We'll sing this song of praises
We'll tell the nations who You are
Creator of the world, we will declare Your name
We will worship You oh God, for Your glory and Your fame

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

It's for Your pleasure that I've lived this life
It's for Your glory I will lift up my voice
You're the lifter of my head, the lover of my soul
You're the healer of my heart, You're everywhere I go

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

And You give Yourself away
And You give Yourself away
And You give, and You give
And You give Yourself away

Give me an undivided heart
A heart that seeks no other
A heart that longs to discover
All that You are

Give Yourself away

All that You are, oh Lord
All that You are, yeah
All that You are, yeah oh
