What would you say, what would you think if I told you that I don't want to win that the spirit of punk is still strong and alive and that I don't intend to give up and pretend that a new suit can cover the stains on my skin, the fact that I'm into people that have no interest in reaching the top?

Would I still be considered to be someone you could put up with and handle?

In that case I wonder if you too admire the life of the ones below the light of success, and if yes, I'd might be someone you'd like to join on a crooked road

What would you say, what would you do If I told you that I'm through being cool that the games that we played and the way we behaved is making me feel ashamed but i hope I have changed I mean to the better

But how about you How do you do now still breaking through enjoying the view from the top?
Would I still be considered to be someone
you could put up with and handle?

In that case I wonder if you too admire the life
of the ones below the light of success, and if yes, you might be someone I'd like to join on a crooked road

But I would refuse, another step with you If you can't take to get some dirt on your expensive boots
But If you like me, are not too hard to please, then there might be a possibility

In that case I wonder if you too admire the life
of the ones below the light of success,
and if yes, you might be someone
I'd like to join on a crooked road
