This is my confessional song
Coz' I can't take this anymore
This was never intentional
This wasn't how I planned it at all

Is it all in my head, in my head
Is it all in my head, in my head

I don't know if you know by now
But I kind of hope that you don't Cuz' your already spoken for
And I'd be a fool to ask for yall' heart

Is it all in my head, in my head
Is it all in my head, in my head

And maybe one sweet day I will get over you
And your face, your voice, your touch wont haunt my dreams
But no one in this world has made me feel like you do
So maybe you will always have a hold on me

Cuz' it's all in my head, in my head
Yeah it's all in my head, in my head
Oh it's all in my head, in my head
Yeah it's all in my head, in my head

This is my confessional song
