closer by Elisa Waut
you can never come
closer than this
but what you are
a breath of air
you can move the earth

the sun and the moon
you have it all
the sun and the moon
you shine like the dawn

closer than this
and when you're near
you make me weak
and I cannot resist

the walls are blue
the lights are dim
you're every little boy I've known and all I say
I'm not for you

never wish
what you can't have
don't come any closer
never take
what is not yours
don't come too close

I will never get the things that you have my arms are down
my lips are warm
and I cannot resist
