Look at the world around I'm such a shattered disappointment And all the love I've found could never be the love I've wanted
And I know I'm just afraid
If there's a chance somehow that I could ever make this better
Give me the chance right now cause I'll be there till forever
And I know that I'm just afraid that if I give you everything I have you'll throw it all away

And I'll crawl right in through your window
Don't say your sorry tell me something I don't know
Crawl right in through your window
Don't say theres nothing wrong

I take it all back now
I have never felt much better
And giving you up somehow has helped make things so much clearer
And I know I'm just afraid
That if I give you everything I have you'll throw it all away
So I'll be brave, yes I'll be brave

And I'll right in through your window
Don't say your sorry tell me something I don't know
Crawl right in through your window
Don't say theres nothing wrong

Yes It's okay that there is something to fix all that you've burned into my brain
But it's okay cause I'll be brave
But if you really need to get up there, does he still know my name?
I'll be brave yes I'll be brave

And I'll crawl right in through your window
Don't say your sorry tell me something I don't know
Crawl right in through your window
Don't say theres nothing wrong

Crawl right in through your window
Don't say theres nothing wrong
Crawl right in through your window
Don't say theres nothing wrong
