See you for all the right reasons
I, will hide the truth behind lies
See you with good intentions
We'll see who's laughing, we'll see who's laughing

Conversation
In a pitch black devils night everyone is loaded
I can barely breath, forever will end in time
This is how I will deal with the things I've done

Forty hours left, a step down from the way we've been
And now you're just a broken habit
In a world that just wont have it anymore
Sit back and let it all go down
Eyes closed and the whole world spinning
You think you control it but the devil made me do it just wont [fly]

*Can we still, convince them?
It's a trial, for transition
From the fact that we're so complicated
It would suit us both better if we spent the time apart
Last chance that everyone has to be free
Cause it happens everyday.*

So long, So long

*I hear jenny in the back say she's having problems
She was searching through herself she was looking for the answer
I said no ones gonna come back in the end
Because I am your best mistake I will never let you down*

*Is that what you wanted? Is that what you needed?
Because i know its gonna come back in the end (said i know its gonna come back, in the end)
Until then I've gotta save them.*

*Can we still, convince them?
It's a trial, for transition
From the fact that we're so complicated
It would suit us both better if we spent the time apart*

*Last chance that everyone has to be free
Cause it happens everyday*

*So long, and thanks but i will move on These past few weeks they will be free
So long, and thanks but i will move on
So drive fast you've gotta drive faster
I told you from the start i would never hold you back girl.*

*Can we still, convince them?
It's a trial, for transition
From the fact that we're so complicated
It would suit us both better if we spent the time apart
Last chance that everyone has to be free
Cause it happens everyday!*
