Well everything can't be wrong, we make people smile all night long
They shout and clap when we play, we do what we do,
we do it our way
And when we're through we sink down low, and shuffle back down in a hole Then peaking out with puppy dog eyes, we don't believe truth we only believe lies

We're junkies, negative attention junkies
We don't feel right unless we feel wrong
We don't believe we belong with the strong

Well hey there girl, how are you? I see it's eating you up, too
This fix, this thing you have to have, your doubts secured, your worries hatched You think there's only one safe place, if there's something wrong it's your saving grace You cling to negativity, but don't let go, you might just find you're free

We're junkies, negative attention junkies
We don't feel right unless we feel wrong
We don't believe we belong with the strong

Cause everything can't be wrong, we make people smile all night long
They shout and clap when we play, we do what we do,
we do it our way
And when we're through, let's listen in, and say, "Thank you" if praise is given As Momma says, just be gracious and start believing that we are enough

And not be junkies, negative attention junkies
We can feel right without feeling wrong
We can believe we belong with the strong Yeah, we can feel right without feeling wrong
We can believe we belong with the strong
