Not 10 Miles under the ground,
You can stop your digging.
Not way up over a cloud, come off your ladder
And quit your reaching.
What is it you are searching for?
You seem willing to give up the seat of your core.
Could it be that it's right here?

Right here is the starting place
That you've been missing.
Right here.
Right here, open your eyes,
Let your ears listen.
It's what you need, it's right here.
It's what you need, it's right here.

Where have you been going?
And who're you trying to prove yourself to?
Time is not waiting, so do what you have to do.

Not 10 miles under the ground,
You can stop your digging
Cause it's not his, it's not hers,
It's your life you need to be living
The shape of your heart, the play of your mind
Is there something else you were trying to find?
Could it be that it's right here?
Could it be that it's right here?
