"In my eyes"

Wandering the streets late at night,
I walk alone but with a memory in my eyes.
So many times I wondered what went wrong,
and what I could do, what I could do.

And I never thought I'd find what I'm looking for.
A place left in my mind, you opened the door.
You picked me up and now I'm thankfully yours.
You're everything to me.

Snow covering the streets at night.
I walk alone but with a memory in my eyes.
So many times I walked amongst the dead,
and I was one of them, and I was one of them.
