Simple seams with single lines
That operate with poised precision.
We'll orchestrate and bend with time
And all the strings will fade with fury.
Laced with light, all divine
The angels sing what is rippled runs in circles all combined
Which bleeds the seams of sin and sanctity.
And we'll lay low till it's close to call,
We'll search to sever the calvary song.
We'll look for signs of flashing lights,
We'll search to sever the calvary.
Send down circles that won't subside.
In reverence we search to find these compact people with sloped designs.
We slip on in and learn to drive
These slimmed down people with molded lines.
We shape and bend, we modify
Amorphic people are soon defined.
And we'll lay low till it's close to call,
We'll search to sever the calvary song.
We'll look for signs of flashing lights,
We'll search to sever the calvary.
(Lay it over...Lay it on)
We'll search and sever the calvary song.
