Lone Star signs are flashing.
The music's turned up loud.
I've danced with every cowboy in this place.

Steel guitars are playing.
Someone's spinning me around.
This heart of mine has come a long, long way.

(Chorus)
Heart on the mend.
Time is the best medicine there is.
Heart on the mend.
A couple hundred years and I'll be ready to love again.

I saw you in the doorway with somebody new.
You said hello but I just danced on by.
I bet you thought I'd break down
Just like I used to.
But I fooled you and held it all inside.

(Chorus)
Heart on the mend.
Time is the best medicine there is.
Heart on the mend.
A couple hundred years and I'll be ready to love again.

(Bridge)
I'm picking up the pieces.
Getting over you.
A little time and I'll be good as new.

(Chorus)
Heart on the mend.
Time is the best medicine there is.
Heart on the mend.
A couple hundred years and I'll be ready to love again.

(fade out)
Heart on the mend.
