Every night I turn to you
But you turn away
I know there's no good news
In what you might say

I couldn't stand to hear it
So let well enough be, oh
Your silence is golden
Especially to me

'Cause I know no news is good news
With each word you don't say
Silence is golden
At least for today

No news is good news
With each word you don't say
No news is good news
As long as you stay

Haven't heard a loving word
From you in a while
I don't see that look of love
That was once in your smile

I know you're unhappy
And you can't tell me why
But at least for the moment
You haven't told me goodbye
Don't say goodbye

'Cause I know, no news is good news
With each word you don't say
Silence is golden
At least for today

No news is good news
With each word you don't say
No news is good news
As long as you stay
